Hi Sweetheart

Just got your letter today dated the 5th of November. I guess I told you in my letter that I wrote Sunday that we didn't go to Paris, we didn't have enough time. Just a little old three day pass. We will put in for a furlough in January or February. Say Sweetheart don't be afraid to write anything in your letters, no one else will read them, if they are just for me. I really want to know how you feel about me, because I tell you how much I love you. So please don't be afraid. I don't want to feel like a stranger when I come to your house. Mostly I don't want to be any stranger as far as you are concerned either Honey. I can even feel that first kiss right now. We will make every minute count too. When I take you out, I'm afraid we wouldn't get far. Probably the first side road. Then I could really show you how much I love you. Remember Sweetheart, You are mine, and mine alone. So don't go wasting any of those sweet kisses. When I get home. That is all we'll do. Until you get sick of me.

I hope not though. All I want to do is get out of the Army, so that I can hold you in my arms. Goodnight Honey I'll dream of you tonight.

With Lots of Love
Bob.
